ABOUT

Mawang Concrete Group | MCG is a 100% Aboriginal-owned business delivering concrete supply, mobile concrete plant solutions, concrete pumping and project support services across Australia.

The name Mawang is derived from the Wiradjuri language and translates to "together" or "all together". At MCG, this meaning represents far more than our name. It reflects our belief that successful projects are built through collaboration, strong partnerships and a shared commitment to achieving outstanding outcomes.

Within the construction industry, concrete is the foundation that brings projects together. It connects communities, supports critical infrastructure and provides the strength that holds structures together for generations. In the same way, MCG aims to bring people, businesses and opportunities together to create lasting value across the construction and infrastructure sectors.

Built on strong culture and guided by the principles of respect, integrity and accountability, MCG is committed to delivering reliable, high-quality solutions while creating meaningful opportunities for Indigenous participation throughout the industry.

We believe success is achieved collectively. Through strong partnerships with our clients, suppliers, contractors and communities, we work together to support the successful delivery of civil, infrastructure, commercial and resources projects across Australia.

Leadership & VISION

NATHAN WELDON-BOWEN Managing Director

A proud Wiradjuri and Bidjigal man, Nathan was born and raised in Sydney and is passionate about creating meaningful opportunities for Indigenous participation throughout the construction and infrastructure sectors.

With over 10 years of experience within the construction industry, Nathan has worked across major infrastructure and construction projects, developing a strong understanding of project delivery, stakeholder engagement, procurement and building long-term industry relationships.

Driven by a commitment to excellence and long-term industry outcomes, Nathan established MCG with a vision to build Australia's leading Aboriginal-owned concrete supply company. Guided by the meaning of Mawang — together — he is focused on bringing people, projects and communities together through trusted partnerships, reliable supply solutions and sustainable opportunities that create lasting value for industry and future generations.

Why MCG

At MCG, we understand that successful projects rely on more than materials alone. They require trusted partnerships, reliable supply chains and a commitment to delivering on every promise.

Our business has been built on the belief that strong relationships create strong outcomes. By combining industry expertise with cultural values, MCG delivers practical solutions that support project success from planning through to completion.

ABORIGINAL Participation

As an Aboriginal-owned business, MCG is committed to creating genuine and sustainable opportunities for Indigenous participation throughout the construction, infrastructure and resources sectors.

We recognise the important role Indigenous businesses; Traditional Owner groups and Aboriginal Land Councils play in creating stronger communities and supporting long-term economic growth. Through employment, procurement, training and strategic partnerships, MCG seeks to deliver meaningful outcomes that extend beyond project completion.

As MCG grows, we are committed to exploring opportunities to partner with Traditional Owner groups and Aboriginal Land Councils to establish concrete batching operations on Indigenous-owned land - where appropriate. Our long-term vision is to create sustainable business models that generate local employment, build capability within communities and create shared economic benefits through collaborative partnerships and revenue-sharing opportunities.

We believe meaningful Indigenous participation is achieved through genuine engagement, long-term relationships and creating opportunities that leave a lasting legacy for future generations.

At MCG, success is measured not only by the projects we support, but by the positive impact we create for Indigenous communities across Australia. Our goal is to create lasting economic participation, not just project-based engagement.

SAFETY, QUALITY & Environmental

Safety, quality and environmental responsibility are fundamental to the way MCG operates.

We are committed to maintaining the highest standards across all aspects of our business and supporting our clients in delivering safe, compliant and successful projects.

MCG is actively developing and implementing management systems aligned with industry best practice and is working towards certification in internationally recognised standards, including:

- ISO 9001 - Quality Management Systems
- ISO 45001 - Occupational Health & Safety Management Systems
- ISO 14001 - Environmental Management Systems

Our management systems focus on:

- Workplace Health & Safety
- Quality Assurance
- Environmental Responsibility
- Risk Management

Through a culture of accountability, continuous improvement and operational excellence, MCG is committed to delivering every project safely, efficiently and to the highest standard.
